DEDICATION

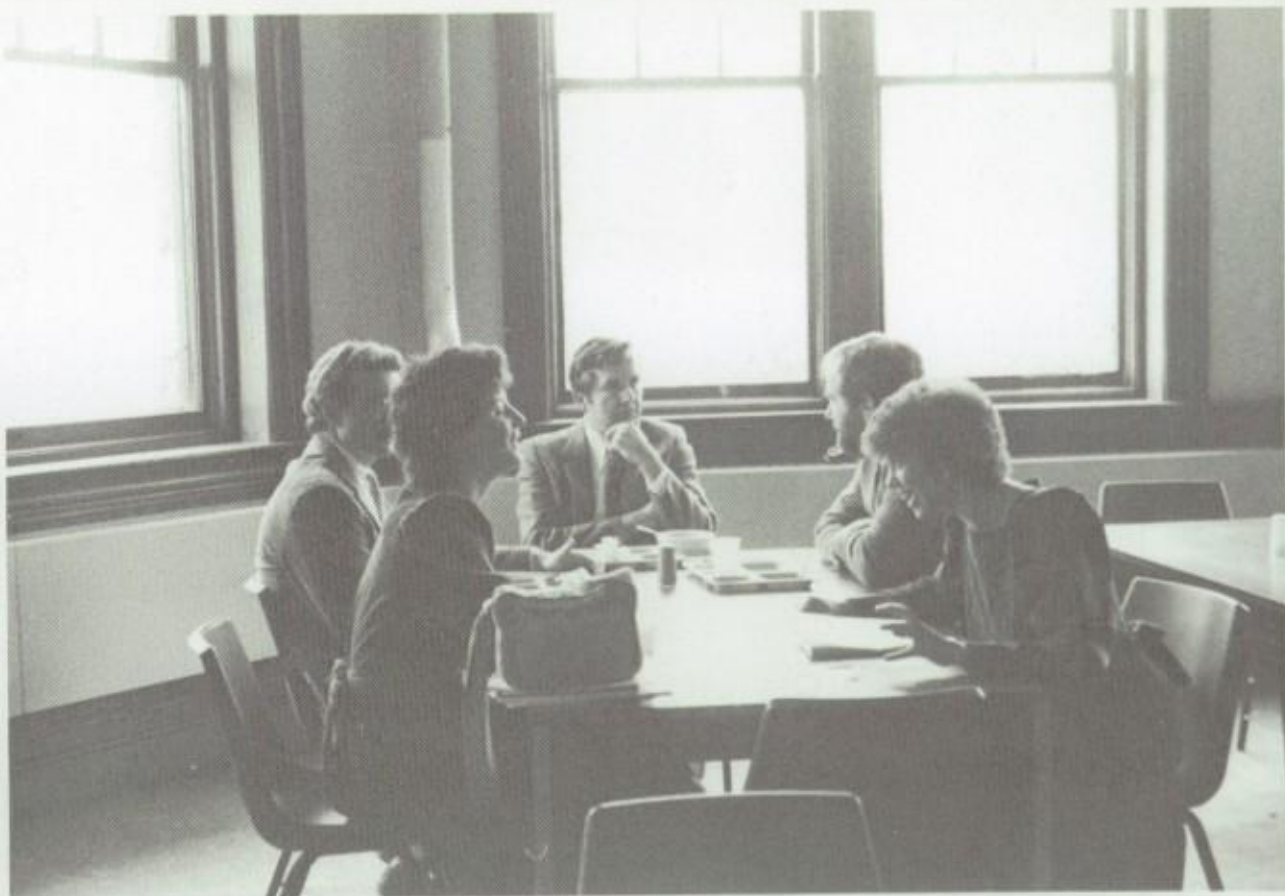

Mr. Arthur Naething

Part of the mystique of senior year is Senior English, and all of the mystique of Senior English is Mr. Naething. "Every Fall he begins the year by telling the seniors how much time has passed that they have wasted by not starting that infamous, most dreaded Tragedy Paper, and every Spring he is inundated by whales of every shape and size. Whose day would be complete with Mr. Naething telling him to 'go forth and spread beauty and light'?" For over twenty years he has taught every student to pass through Hackley. During this time he has shared with each one of us his knowledge and love of literature, and we are all richer for it.

FACULTY

GOOD-BYE MRS. T.

For the past four years Mrs. Truocolo has been the Upper School Study Hall Monitor. During those four years an unusual bond grew between her and the Class of '88. After Graduation Mrs. Truocolo left along with the graduates. Next year, Hackley will miss her terribly, but not nearly as much as the Class of '88. And so, the class has set aside this page to say good-bye and extend our love to Mrs. T.

LOVE,

The Class of '88

Headmaster's Letter

A Sense of the Past

Plaques, banners, inscriptions, portraits, and trophies are important symbols of a school's history. We often hurry by them heedlessly; but they connect us, even unconsciously, to the past and remind us of the students, faculty, administrators, and trustees who have preceded us. At Hackley we hold onto these mementos in an attempt to give our students a sense of tradition and to make them less present-minded.

Around the school used to hang numerous bronze plaques honoring former teachers, trustees, and students. The plaques had become tarnished, piled in the basement of the Headmaster's House. They have been brought out of the basement, polished, and remounted. One, a magnificent piece of craftsmanship, the gigantic bronze plaque honoring World War I dead, now hangs at the end of the upper-school classroom corridor near the dozens of wooden plaques that list the name of every Hackley graduate. The first name on the World War I list is Alan Seeger, Class of 1906, poet and author of "I Have a Rendezvous With Death." Another handsome bronze plaque, donated by the Alumni Association in 1921, honors Hugo C.A. Schmidt, Hackley Master from 1900-1920. The plaque now hangs above the door of the Alumni Office.

The huge, somber mezzotints of Chartes, the Sphinx, and the Parthenon (those symbols of the great achievements of civilization) that used to hang along the main corridor have been restored and returned. You can see the original floor along the Admissions Corridor and the old trophies in the cases lining the Grille Room. In the Common Room, headmasters' portraits hang identified. At the far end of the room hangs, in a vintage gilt frame, a splendid portrait of Sarah Goodhue King, one of the most generous benefactors of the school.

In America our memories are short. Our frantic pursuit of knowledge, success, and goods leaves little time for tradition and beauty. And we shun old people and forget their contributions. In schools, history is menaced by "social studies." Many secondary schools do not even teach history, but disgorge deracinated students from ugly buildings that invite them never to return. We are trying to connect the present Hackley community - to teach our current students to remember their predecessors and to encourage former students and faculty to come back to the Hilltop.

HACKLEY SENIOR IS ALIEN MUTANT

Startling evidence revealed last week proves that this 17 year old is actually a mutant space alien, found by the Air Force in a wrecked UFO sixteen years ago. The picture on the right of Joel Auslander on the left was taken recently. Together they prove that this Hackley senior is actually the creature. The alien escaped from a secret laboratory when it was accidentally thrown out during spring cleaning. The scientists plan to recapture the space visitor as soon as their van gets back from the shop. When asked whether being an alien has affected its life, the creature quoted the Talking Heads by replying: "Heh, I am just a number."

A donkey sent, once, by express,
His shipping ticket on his bridle,
Ate up his name and his address.
And, in some warehouse, standing idle,
He waited till he like to died.

I know I'm God. What love bites? I was cornered by a Siamese cat. Poker parties and Risk with sherry at 3:00 am. Where IS Roosevelt hospital, anyway? The arcade in the subway. — DD in the morning. SHUT UP, MIKE!!! (But it was not to be ...). Not now, I've got a headache. B.H.C. The one place with Constitutional rights of free expression. Dill pickle. Unsullied record. The mouse DOES deserve a grave. 76. World Record. Toegther, now. B.J.I.A.F.A.B. You've not been a very good smurf lately. Court summons for $5? Arrested on the train platform. So what if you lost the war, Rafe? Just let me WIN!!! Beth, 666? I am not a jinx. What red light? I thought it was yellow! Like a fruitfly, John. Wake me in the morning? No, I CAN'T hear the alarm. That'll be two thousand for the therapy. Lara. you KNOW I Love you! My hands are freedom lovers. Deb. Tracy. Don't worry, I don't think you three are ... Boarding people, sorry. It must have been two years of musical hell. It's been real, everybody. Let's not keep in touch.

Hey, have another major bash! All we need is to frost up some mugs and the coaches will bring the refreshments. If that doesn't work, let's get a keg. But Scott says no more parties, so I'll have one, what possibly can happen? Well I not only lost a portion of my house, but a few of my friends nearly died, no big deal because "I got my tools in my car, and we can fix it." Yea right Jeffrey. But it doesn't matter as long as the kegs are alright . . . John, Utah was awesome, most skiing done in a week. But hey, what about Sugarbush, the most drinking in a week, a much greater accomplishment. Mike, that was the biggest thing I've ever seen, or made, but don't let John touch it. The HOOCKA! luck next year, Juniors The tragedy paper isn't really that bad; we Seniors did it (or at least most of us did). Ergo, you will (probably) be able to do it However, tragedy can be tragic (as you will soon find out) Sophomores and Freshmen, soon it will be your turn, also, to experience Tragedy with its Hamlet and its Othello and, of course, "To be or not to be." Fear not, though Even though Tragedy may be difficult to understand, it is not impossible I'm sure you'll survive. I expect that everyone will take Cross-Country next fell (That is, everyone except us Seniors) Juniors, set a good example next year Don't do anything that we Seniors would have killed you for doing Freshmen and Sophomores (and Juniors, too), you'll survive, I'm sure See you all

"I've never seen you looking so bad, my funky one.
You tell me that your super-fine mind has come undone.
Any major dude with half a heart surely will tell you, my friend,
Any mind or world that breaks apart falls back together again.

"These are the days of miracle and wonder.
This is the long distance call.
The way the camera follows us in slo-mo,
The way we look to us all, oh yeah,
The way we look to a distant constellation
That's dying in a corner of the sky.
These are the days of miracle and wonder,
And don't cry, baby, don't cry.
Don't cry."

The Men's Soccer Team, led by a group of talented seniors, finished a nearly perfect season with three school records to their credit. The team rolled through their Ivy-League competition without a loss on route to the team's fifth Ivy League crown in the last eight years. Two nailbiting losses to Rye did little to diminish the luster of this fine season.

The Hornet boosters excelled defensively. Led by Co-captain John Perlmutter, the team posted an incredible 10 shutouts in 14 games. Hackley's All-League goaltender, Gian Neffinger, allowed only six goals all season for a stunning .42 goals-against average. Perlmutter, the league's premier defender, was the unanimous choice for All-League, while two of his linemates, Jeremy Gristina and Chris O'Neill, were named to the All-Ivy second team. Complementing these talented seniors were Freshmen Josh Stern, Warren Finklestein, and the 1988's co-captain, Rob Hanson.

Much of the credit for the Hornet's shutout mark must go to the halfbacks. This is, perhaps, the most difficult position on the field because there are numerous defensive and offensive duties to perform. Next year's co-captain, Robert Gutheil, was the center halfback and engineer of the Hackley 'system.' He directed the offense while scoring six goals and leading the team with 10 assists, and was selected to the All-League squad by rival Ivy coaches. Seniors Chuck Toti and Karl Kazarian were joined by newcomer Anthony Aloia to complete a talented, balanced midfield. With Mike Bresnick, Noah Mackenzie, and William Baddoo as capable substitutes, Hackley sported the Ivy League's strongest midfield.

The offense was led by senior Co-captain Yoshi Tanaka. He finished a stellar tenure on the Hilltop by notching his 71st point in a Hackley uniform, and was the fourth team member to gain All-League status. Freshmen Hessel Pole (6 goals, 5 assists) and junior Amir Khosrowshahi rounded out the front line. Khosrowshahi's 9 goals led the team, and secured him All-Ivy second team recognition.

Despite the loss of 8 seniors, the team feels confident about the '88 campaign. There are strong players returning at many of the skill positions, and the squad has shown the desire and enthusiasm necessary to continue their winning ways.

The Women's Varsity Soccer Team had its most successful season ever this year with an overall record of twelve wins, two losses, and one tie. The season began with a six game winning streak that was broken by a tough 4-3 loss to Holy Child, a loss avenged in the last game of the season to secure the Fairchester Title. Other highlights of the season included the team's first domination at the Storm King Tournament. Two decisive wins against Sacred Heart, which had won the Fairchester League for the past three years, proved that the team was on its way to a terrific season.

Mr. Dave Allison has coached the women's team since 1981. When the program began, he also coached the middle school team. The juniors and seniors who dominated this year's season are the product of many years of consistent training under this superior coach. Four graduating seniors, Kim Blaivas, Emily Colwell, Jenny Mayher, and Maria Vrachnos, are six-year veterans of the program run by Mr. A.

The 1987 season was the culmination of dedicated training by the team, which was made up of four sophomores, Grace Beisel, Bebe Hutter, Melissa McCaffery, and Jessica Pickert; five juniors, Susanna Colwell, Molly Dougherty, Tanisha Landry, Jeanine Rynne, and goalie Yukiko Ueno; and five seniors, high-scorer Kim Blaivas, Emily Colwell, Claire Kaplan, Jenny Mayher, and Maria Vrachnos.

The team went into the Fairchester Championship Game with a league record of 6-2-1, tied with opponent Holy Child. A tie would have resulted in a three-way league tie with Rye Country Day; a loss was an unconsiderable possibility. The close game ended in a 2-1 Hackley victory, making Hackley the Fairchester League Champions for the first time ever. An exciting game rewarded the many fans that turned out for this momentous occasion.

The championship was a first for Hackley girls, but not a last. Between the returning letter-winners and promising J.V. team, who had an impressive 8-2 record, next year's could be another championship year. Good Luck!

Although the women's tennis team ended the season with a 0-10 record, it is hard to imagine a more successful team than this one. On all levels, this squad was a winning team, letting individual improvements and victories replace team wins as a measure for success. Team spirit remained high throughout the season, which is quite a testament to these girls.

The team came closer to team victory than they have in years. Whereas only one of the 1986 losses was as close as 2-5, all but four of the 1987 matches were 2-5 or 3-4. Often the outcome was determined by a third-set tiebreaker. One of the best descriptions for this team is "determined," and their determination showed up in multiple comeback wins. Perhaps the flashiest was Beth Rizzi's victory over Riverdale; down 2-5 in the third, she won the set and the match 5-5. Equally impressive wins were recorded by MVP Jenn Leitzes, Margo Bernick, Jodi Braten, and the second doubles partnership of newcomers Gaigi Kunal and Caroline Nolan. Key to the success of this team were the efforts of Co-captain Amy Zelvin, Kami Abruzese, Johanna Clark, and Alison Solomon, as well as the managing efforts of Colleen Murphy. Determination, team spirit, and enthusiasm are powerful tools with which we'll enter the 1988 season. Next year may have more victories, but it certainly cannot be any more successful than 1987.

Hackley football has always been a force to be reckoned with. This year was no different. Though small in size and numbers, the football team was big of heart.

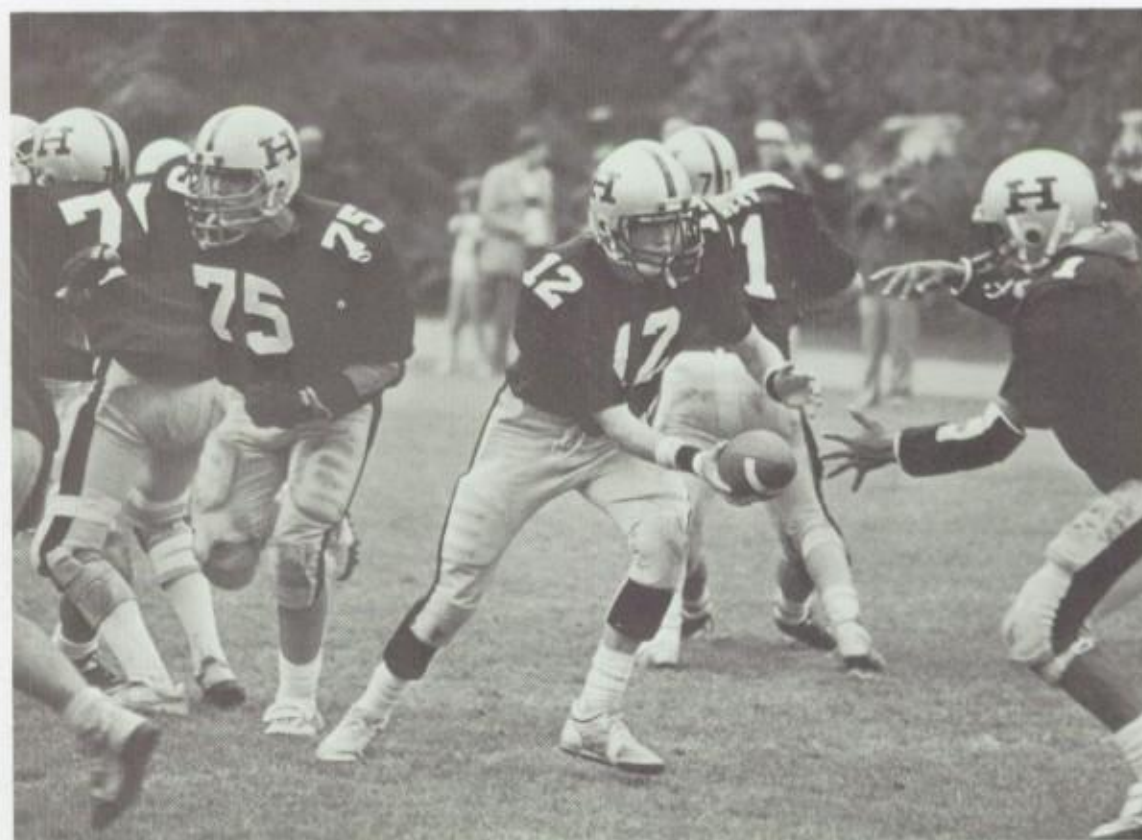

Hackley started the season with an unexpected surge. They beat Kellenburg Memorial High School 14-0 in the opening game of the season. It was an astonishing feat. Watching the game, Hackley was more the size of Kellenburg's J.V. team. Hackley then went on to win its next three games. Two of its victories came late in the second half, and one of these was against Hackley's arch rival, Riverside (12-7).

With a 4-0 start, Hackley seemed unstoppable; but, unfortunately, their small size held them back. Hackley's fifth game was against Hopkin's Grammar, the only undefeated team Hackley was to play. From the moment they walked out onto the field, Hackley seemed to be a different team. The Hackley intensity wasn't there. Perhaps the mental strain of every game being so important had caught up with them; perhaps it was the physical wear-down of playing every play of every game without substitution; perhaps it was the injuries. Whatever the case, the next two games were heartbreakers. Aside from the lack of intensity, the Hopkins game was like most of the previous games. It hinged on about three of their big plays. This time Hackley could not make them. Hopkins hung onto their 11-8 lead and gave Hackley their first loss of the season.

The Poly game is hard to explain. It was a mixture of so many things that, if stated, would sound like complaining. The two main problems were that Hackley was plagued by both injuries and penalties. If one or the other could have been eliminated, Hackley would have been victorious.

Now 4-2, Hackley regained their fire. In their seventh game, against Pingry, Hackley rallied in the second half to come back from a six point deficit and win 8-6. Hackley's final game was against Saugerties High School from upstate New York. Unlike most of Hackley's games in the past two years, Hackley took the lead early and maintained it 20-7, until about midway through the second half. Through heads-up defensive playing, Saugerties came back to tie the score at 20-20. The game ended in a tie — an option which no one had considered.

The Hackley football season was once again a successful one. If one looks at the size of the team, an overall record of 12-2-1 is impressive. But what is the most impressive was this team's unity. Through thick and thin, through wins and losses, the coaches and players stuck together.

Once upon a time, in a land filled with giant "Greenwich Academies" and "St. Lukes," as well as mean, ugly "Horace Mann's," there lived a peace-loving but very determined young team named Hackley. This fun-loving and determined team was made up of fun-loving players. With their hockey sticks, this little team toppled many a giant. The following players contributed to the downfall of these stalwart and legendary legions:

Erin is a wing with a sure corner hit
We aim next year to score often with it!

Heather, her neighbor, would let nothing past,
When the ball was out front, she got it down fast.

Emily, our fearless co-captain, led the way,
And brought many a victory through a break away.

Molly, who occasionally played with backward feet,
Helped us out of many a defeat.

Lydia is the girl with purple knees,
At centerhalf, she Fields the ball with ease!

Courtney yells at anyone in her way,
Because she knows when to rush. -Boy, she can play!

Serena has a hit that's hard to beat,
Which fools many an opponent because she looks so sweet!

Jessica, yelling and screaming, sweeps the field,
And gets the ball; she will not yield!

Hilary, Pippa, and Kirsty, our powerful links,
Helped stop free hits by filling the chinks.

The freshman always gave hockey their best,
This hard work was appreciated by all the rest!!!!

Johanna, Johanna, what can we say?
When they shot on goal, you got in the way!!! ...

... And with the confidence instilled from beating many a peer,
This team will go on and win the Ivies next year!!!

... and live happily ever after ...

Led by captains John Neuwirth, Tom Henvey, and John Tepedino, Hackley Wrestling had its best season since 1960 with a 9-2-1 record. Coinciding with a remarkable record were 5th places in the Randall Foote Tournament and the Fairchester Tournament, a 4th place in the Ivy League Tournament and an 8th place in the New York State Tournament.

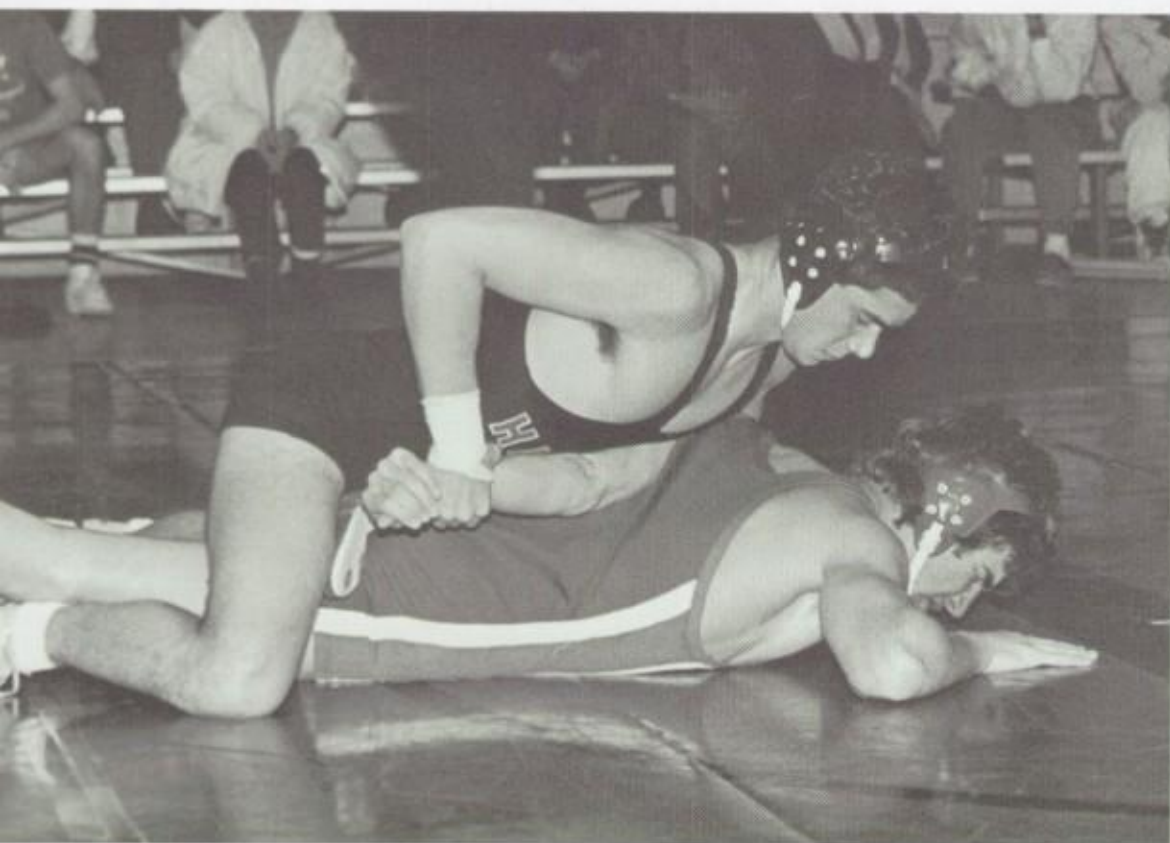

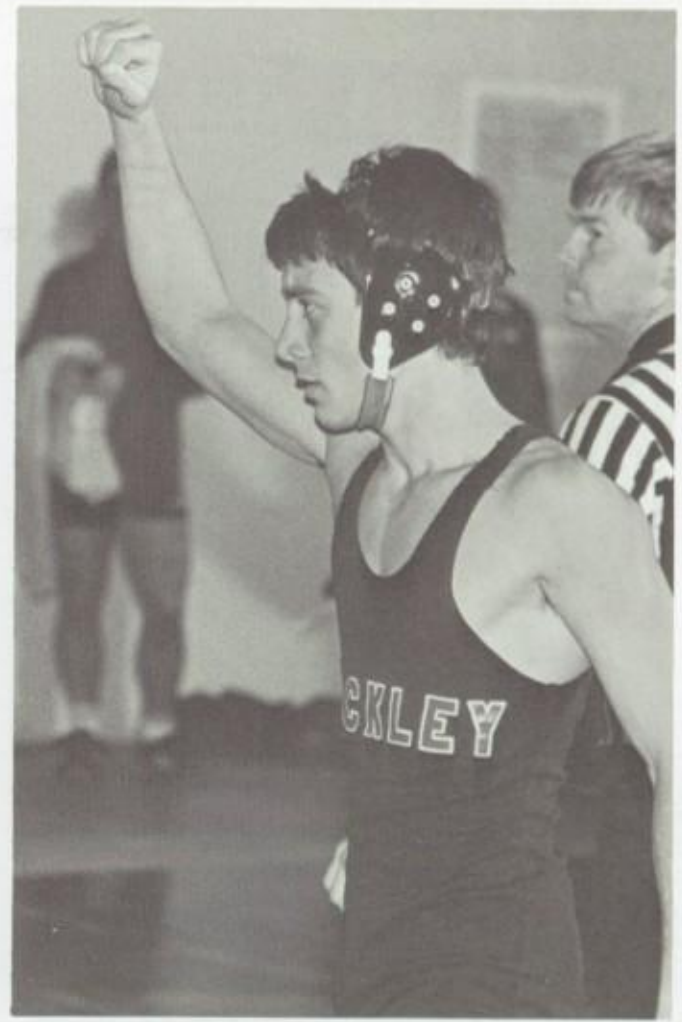

Light-weights Chris Lennon, Sohei Suzuki, and Damon Leary; and veterans Perry Incantalupo, Dan Neuwirth, and Warren Finkelstein began each meet with some intense and exciting victories. With the rest of the veteran squad, middle-weights John Neuwirth, Ilan Cyzner, Mike Mehiel, and Kamati Pinkston kept pounding opponents with very dramatic matches. Finally, heavy-weights John Tepedino, Alex Lewis, and Tom Henvey added the knock-out blow to bring Hackley to victory.

A highlight of the season was defeating the defending Connecticut State Champions, Brunswick. With it all coming to the last match, Darrell Oakley pinned his opponent and gave Hackley a 37 - 29 win. Another exciting highlight was beating undefeated Poly Prep 33 - 23. Tough victories were attributed to John Neuwirth, Perry Incantalupo, Warren Finkelstein, Dan Neuwirth, and John Tepedino, as well as the final pins by Alex Lewis and Tom Henvey.

The greatest highlight of the season was hosting the New York State Tournament. Although we came in an upsetting 8th place, Hackley had many place winners. John Tepedino and Chris Lennon came in 6th, Dan Neuwirth and Warren Finkelstein came in 4th, Tom Henvey came in 2nd, and John Neuwirth became the New York State Champion.

Thanks to the leadership and outstanding coaching of Dave Wilson, who has helped make Wrestling a big sport at Hackley, and the powerful Ivy League Team, Hackley had its best season in twenty-five years. With only four seniors leaving this year and many newcomers arriving from the Middle School, Hackley Wrestling should be in the running for the Ivy League Championship.

The 1987-88 season began with the familiar: the heady odor of chlorine, the cries of "Animal" before each meet, and the anticipation of yet another Ivy-League Championship. But to win a fourth consecutive league crown, the team had to overcome rival Trinity. When Trinity fell in the first meet of the year, the Ivy League season was, for all intents and purposes, over. Horace Mann, Poly Prep, and Riverdale went down in short order and Hackley was once again on its way to a title.

Outside their league, the team recorded victories against Fieldston and John Jay, but for the first time in years they encountered trouble against the larger public schools. Coach Ellison has always pursued a competitive schedule. He feels that testing the team against better competition is the most effective tool to prepare it for the league championship meet in February, and so Hackley suffered four losses at the hands of highly-regarded, state-ranked public schools Tappan Zee, Newburgh, Pine Bush, and Clarkstown. This left the Hornet's with a 6-4 record for the year, a drop off after three consecutive seasons with eight or more wins, but still a mark to be proud of for an overachieving team whose front line was severely depleted by the loss of last year's seniors.

Hackley sparkled at the three day Ivy League Championship meet, winning its fourth consecutive title. Led by co-captains Leroy Kim, a potential All-American, and Fritz Stetter, both triple winners at the meet, Hackley placed ten swimmers on the All-league team, won six out of eleven events, and outdistanced runner-up Trinity by nearly 50 points. Tanja and Natasha Zabka highlighted the Hornet victory with first and third places respectively in the diving, proving that Hackley could survive the loss of All-American diver Robert Silverman.

Depth was the hallmark of this year's team. While the front line of Leroy Kim and Fritz Stetter never failed to win, the Hornets relied on excellent performances by Gil Nahas, James Chao, Sven Zabka, Chaja Pole, Mark Bacharach, and Hessel Pole, and by the diving team of Tanja Zabka, Natasha Zabka, and Grace Beissel. The swimming of veterans Eagleson, Laura Hodes, Scott Ahearn, and Chris Guarneri, and that of promising swimmers Patrick O'Connell, Jeff Lyman, Dan Etherill, Marty Reichgott, and Bill Fleming contributed to this year's success. The all-rounded, high-spirited crop of this year's swimmers defined once and for all the meaning of swimming as a team sport and proved that as long as there is water and game competition, Hackley swimming will succeed.

The Varsity Squash Team finished an outstanding season with the best record in the team's seven-year history. They posted eight wins against one loss, easily defeating most of their opponents.

There were five seniors on the team, and their leadership and ability were key factors in the team's dominating performance. Alfie Culliford and Deric Hetzel fought throughout the season for the coveted number one position, while Scott Roberts, Karl Kazarian, and Doug Wetherill all won most of their matches. Athletic junior Amir Khosrowshahi continued to play well, winning six of his nine contests.

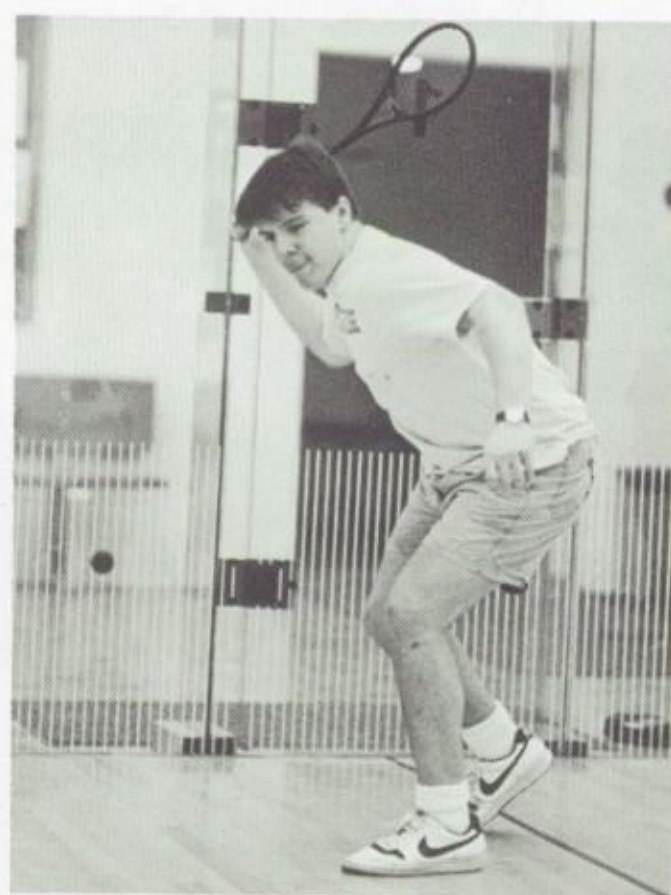

Perhaps most noteworthy was the emergence of two "Super Sophomores": Sean Gibbon and Robert Gutheil. Gibbon was undefeated over nine matches, a Hackley first; and Gutheil, a rookie, won eight matches without losing a single game in competition. These were truly outstanding performances, not likely to be duplicated.

Throughout the season, the team worked hard in practice and displayed poise and team unity in competition. In recognition of their mature attitude toward competition and their uniquely successful performance, the entire team was presented with the "Most-Valuable-Player" award at the conclusion of the season.

The Women's Basketball Team had a year of reconstruction with seniors Johanna Ammirato, Claire Kaplan, Tara Magaletta, and Jenny Mayher returning from last year's team varsity along with nine newcomers. It was a somewhat disappointing season, with the record of 5 wins and 9 losses, yet most of the games were very close. Freshmen Mary Birmingham and Christina Vrachnos, and sophomore Caryn Dodd added much weight to the team, especially compared to last year's. Other contributors were sophomores Melissa McCaffery and Lara Turvey, and juniors Kristine Mattis, Courtney Oliver, and Jeanine Rynne. Freshman Julianne Puente was among the top scorers finishing just behind Caryn Dodd and leading scorer-M.V.P. Tara Magaletta. The season ended on a good note with a victory over Resurrection, followed by the Ivy League All Star Game where Johanna Ammirato, Claire Kaplan, and Tara Magaletta represented Hackley. Players receiving All Ivy League honors were Johanna Ammirato, Claire Kaplan, and Tara Magaletta. All in all, the season was fair. Nine players will be returning to next year's team, so next season looks bright.

The Women's Varsity Fencing Team finished the season with a spectacular five and one record. Led by their captain Eve Reiter, the Hackley girls seemed invincible. They defeated Greenwich H.S. twice, 13 to 3 in early December and 14 to 2 at home in mid-January. Their only defeat came at the hands of Masters School in the last match of the season.

The Men's Varsity Fencing Team had a great start during the '87-'88 season. They won their first two matches, defeating Greenwich H.S. 11 to 5 and squeaking by Trinity with a one touch victory. The rest of the season was less fortuitous. Only one other victory was in the cards, and the season ended with a 3-3 record.

Eve Reiter was the M.V.P. with an impressive 21-3 record. Eve and Anders Lowenfish, Men's Captain, also participated in the Junior Olympics Fencing Competition. The fencing team increased in depth with the addition of Nicole Fry, Stephanie Goldberg, John Kelly, Jamie Levine (11-7), Rohit Menezes, Christopher Nichols, Bethel Techome and "Undefeated" Angela Walker (2-0). We will miss Richards Gilbert, Robert Weisenseel, and the other graduating seniors.

The 1988 Men's Lacrosse season held much to celebrate, both individually and collectively; yet there was still a sense of loss, an incomplete feeling of a job left unfinished. For the first time in seven years, the Hackley Men's Lacrosse Team did not capture the Ivy League championship. To most observers, the preconceived notion of finishing first may seem a touch arrogant. However, Hackley's lacrosse tradition all but dictates this lofty expectation with the start of each season. Thus, a 13-4 record, which most high school teams would be thrilled to achieve, is just another decent season at Hackley if not accompanied by the Ivy League Crown.

This year's edition played with a fierce amount of pride and openly took up the championship gauntlet laid before them. Playing almost the entire season with four seniors and fourteen freshmen, sophomores or first year players, the Hack did an admirable job defending their glorious past by forcing their arch-rival Trinity into a playoff for the right to claim the #1 spot in the Ivy League. After splitting games during the regular season and forging a 2-2 tie well into the fourth quarter, the outmanned Hackley squad finally succumbed. Led by All American Scott Roberts and perennial All Ivy League players Deric Hetzel and John Neuwirth, the team, amidst discernible tears but with heads held high, displayed the class of true champions after losing a pressure-filled game which ended their six-year reign as Ivy champs.

This year's Women's Softball Team was bolstered by the return of several veteran seniors, including Captain Jen Lutton, Sarah Langevin, Jenn Bowles, Beth Gould, Claire Kaplan, Kyra Feldman, and Michele Faranda. They joined returning sophomores Natasha Zabka, Liz Monaco, and Tami Abruzese, and junior Vickie Callahan. The team was strengthened considerably by the addition of rookie phenom Julianne Puente and seasoned sophomore slugger Rand Otten. The squad was rounded out with newcomers Lara Turvey (10th) and Debbie Perrin (11th).

The season started predictably enough with easy victories over weak Riverdale and Trinity squads; however, Horace Mann proved to be tough again, as 11 errors undermined team spirit and led to our first defeat.

The high point of the season came with Fieldston; through four innings each squad scored to go ahead in its respective half of the inning. But, after the fourth, Hackley fielders and pitcher Claire Kaplan combined to hold Fieldston scoreless until finally, in the bottom of the ninth, Jenn Bowles doubled Captain Lutton home to give Hackley a victory in its longest game ever.

Due to the May monsoon, several games were rained out so that the Hornets concluded with two games against Poly

Prep and one against Horace Mann. Despite the fact that we lost all three games, Hackley played its best game of the year in losing to the perennial champ, Poly prep.

We will miss our graduating seniors, many of whom have been with us for four years; their enthusiasm, spirit, and determination did much to lead and inspire the rest of the team. Yet, the nucleus for a successful team is already in place. With Liz Monaco, Vickie Callahan, Lara Turvey, Julianne Puente, Rand Otten, Natasha Zabka, Tami Abruzese, Debbie Perrin, Molly Parker, and Swati Sharma, the future is bright.

A special note of thanks and appreciation is due to Nancy Widmayer, our manager for the second year in a row. Nancy was responsible for maintaining team morale, keeping us in good humor and chocolate chip cookies (home-made of course), and keeping coaches "Uncle Randy" McNaughton and John Van Leer aware of what was going on in the game and sane - not an easy feat with this team!

The team's final record was five wins and four losses. The team's Most Valuable Player Award went to Claire Kaplan, All-Ivy League Designate for the second year. Also awarded All-Ivy recognition were Senior and Captain Jennifer Lutton and Freshman Julianne Puente.

IVY LEAGUE TOURNAMENT

3rd Place

This year the Hackley Baseball Team had one of its most productive seasons in school history. Senior Captain Thomas Henvey and junior, Alex Rodriguez, led the team to an 11 - 7 record. The team finished second in the Ivy-League and third in the Ivy-League Tournament.

Seven school records were broken by the 1988 team, and there were many outstanding performances on the field. For the first time in seven years, Hackley beat league-power Poly Prep, which has finished in first place 37 times in the league's 46 year history.

Senior Sean Rooney set home-run records for the most homers in a season, and most homers in a game. Meanwhile, Thomas Henvey broke the school records for the most hits and highest slugging percentage. Catcher Alex "Chico" Rodriguez shattered the school record for RBI's while throwing out 12 men stealing.

Next year the Hackley Baseball Team looks forward once again to being an Ivy-League power. With nine of twelve players returning and young talent coming up from an excellent Junior Varsity program, the 1989 Baseball Team hopes to be on top of the Ivy-League.

top: Coach Hawkins, A. Culliford, J. Topman, J. Tepedino, C. Toti, S. Weiser, B. Restivo.
bottom: A. Martorella, J. Gristina, C. Brown, L. Solomon.

In a very difficult league, the Men's Tennis Team ended the season with a respectable 3-6 record. In addition to victories over Collegiate, St. Luke's, and Harvey, the team lost two very close matches against Riverdale, and played exciting matches with Poly Prep and Browning. Co-Captains Jeremy Gristina and Alfie Culliford each had wonderful matches against Riverdale: Gristina in the first Riverdale match came back from defeat in the first set to take the match in the third set, while Culliford, having lost badly to his Riverdale opponent at Riverdale, took him to three long and thrilling sets on the Hackley courts two weeks later. MVP Chris Brown '89, who ended the season with a 4-5 record, played several great matches at third singles, while Steve Weiser '88 found his best moment in defeating his Edgemont opponent for the only victory of that match. The first doubles team of Chuck Toti '88 and Ben Restivo '89 played consistently hard-hitting, exciting doubles while John Tepedino '88 and Andrew Martorella '90 played quite successful tactful tennis at second doubles. Lee Solomon '90 and Jason Topman '89, often teaming together and frequently filling in on one of the other doubles teams, also played super tennis all season adding much-needed depth to the lineup.

Although five seniors leave the Men's Tennis Team this year, next season's captains Brown and Restivo promise to lead the team to an even more successful season. Riverdale in particular will have much to worry about.

The 1988 Track season was a success in more ways than one. There were 50 participants, the highest number the program has seen in many years, and many of the members of the team were excellent runners. Our dual meet record improved from last year's 3-5 to a winning 7-4 which involved some close meets with the New York School for the Deaf and Trinity.

The Men's Team was 3rd out of 8 teams at the New York Invitational and 2nd at the Ivies. At the Eagles Invitational, a meet involving 35 prep schools, the men were 6th and the women, 4th.

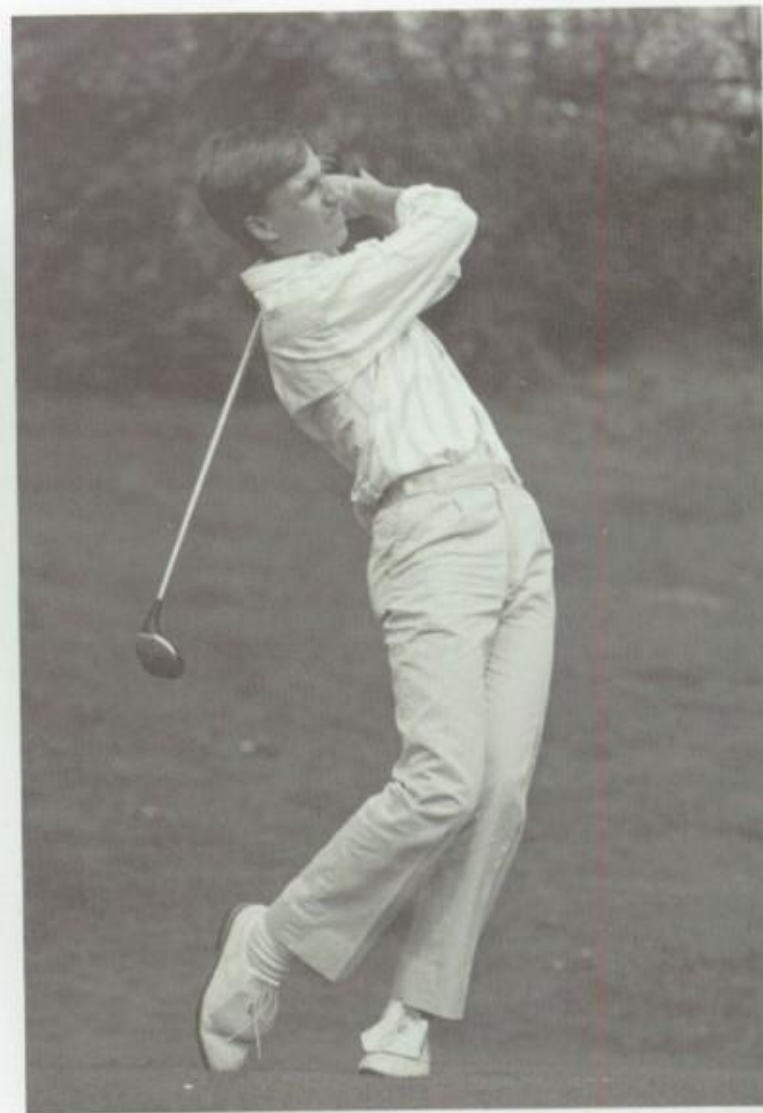

Our success can be attributed to the all-around good attitude of the team who always give 100%, and the ability of a few exceptional runners. Standouts this season were Doug Wetherill, Jennifer Vollweiler, Dan Wetherill and Chaja Pole. Doug was voted Most Valuable Performer at the Eagles and qualified for the Easterns where he ran 1:56 half mile to shatter the school record and finish 4th overall. Jennifer peaked at the Loucks games, which include all public and private schools from 7 Northeast states, where she ran a 5:10 mile, taking 5th place and setting a new school record. She also ran the Eagles Invitational and the Ivy mile and 2 mile. Dan impressed everybody by running a 4:41 mile and finishing 3rd at the Ivies and 5th at the Eagles, both outstanding achievements at any level but truly exceptional for a freshman. Chaja shattered her Ivy league record in the 440 by winning in 61 seconds and came in 2nd at the Eagles with a 60.3, a school record. With this natural talent and the hard work that everybody put in to the next program, we expect to go from strength this year to strength next year. Obviously, the loss of Doug, Jenn, and Andrew Scott will be a factor, but we hope the other team members have learned from watching these fine examples and will pick up where they left off.

GOLF

Coach Clark, D. Rifkin, D. Wetzstein, A. Staub, B. Vaughn, S. Good, L. Kim, N. Gleason, M. Karger.

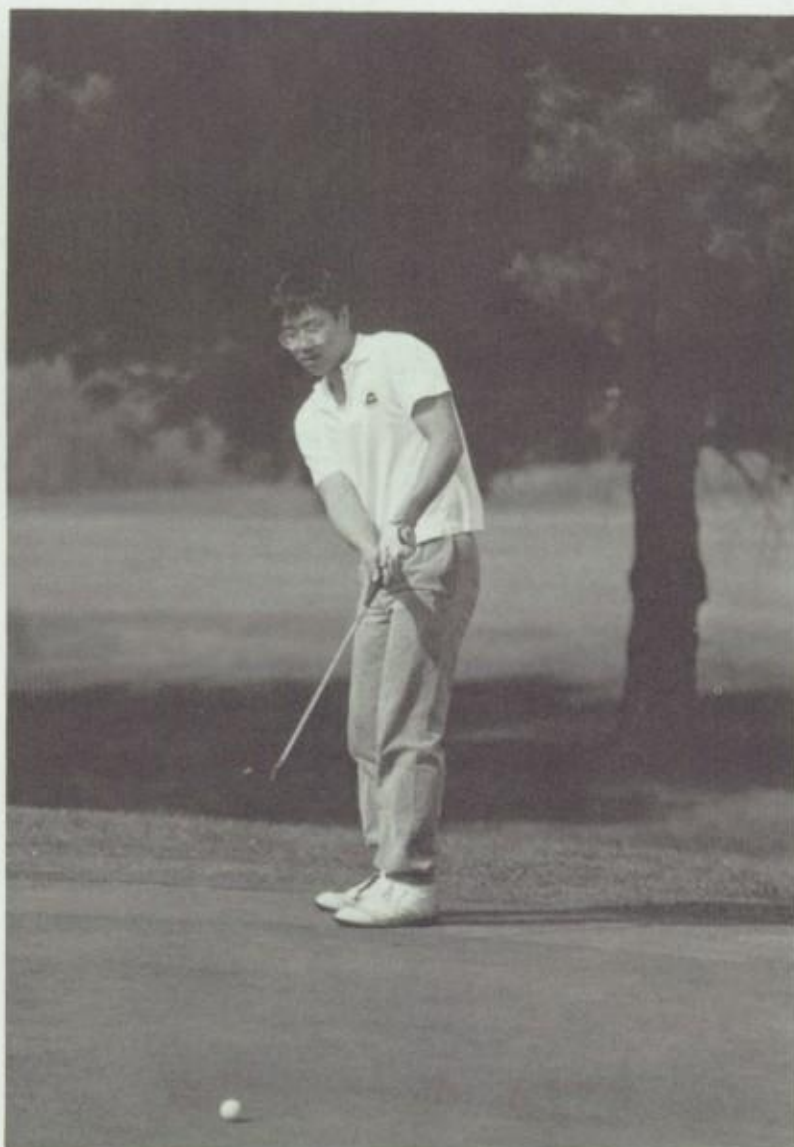

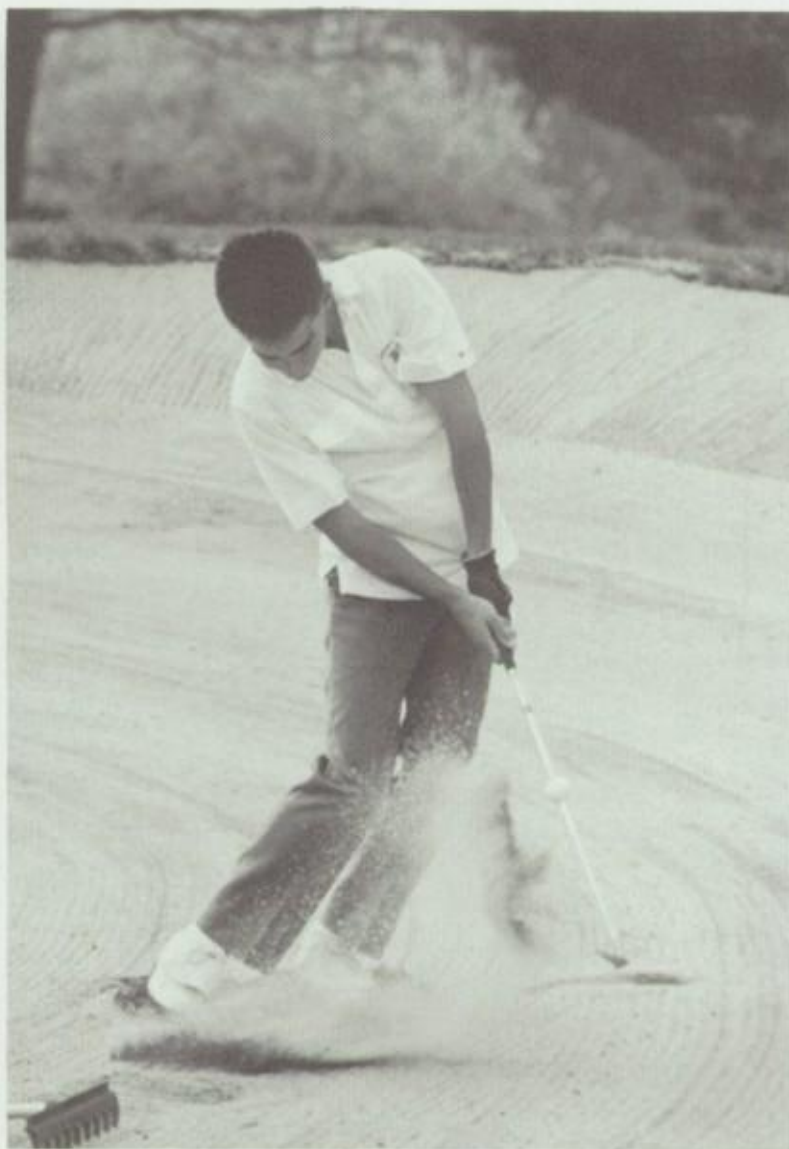

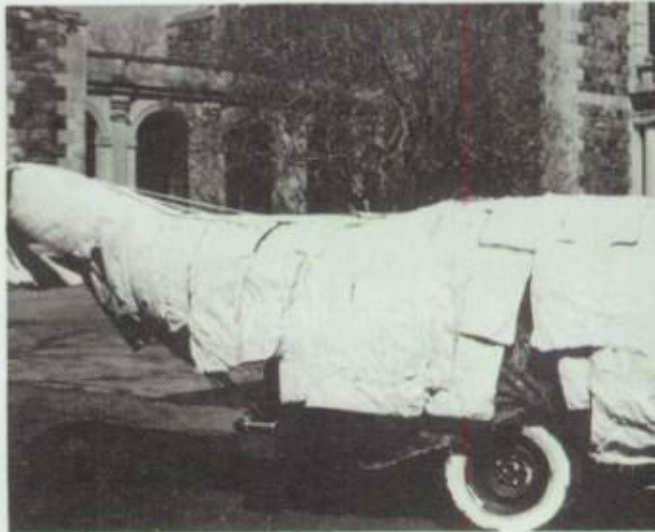

The Golf Team enjoyed another successful season, closing out their schedule with a win over Hamden Hall at the Yale University course to finish with 5 wins and 3 losses. With three of the stronger golfers returning from last year's 9-1 team, the final record was rather a disappointment to the players. The team started the year with a win over Rye Country Day and shot a fine aggregate score (the total of the best five out of six scores) of 221 on the back nine at the lush and scenic Sleepy Hollow Country Club course. Another win, over King School, was followed by three consecutive losses. The first was to a very strong Brunswick team in which only Dave Wetzstein was able to win a match for Hackley. He was also the low medalist in the contest, shooting a very respectable 42 in cold and extremely windy conditions over the front nine at Sleepy Hollow. Next, poor play led to a disappointing loss against a weak Horace Mann team. The third loss, Rye Country Day, was decided by a heartbreaking four strokes in the team totals, 219-223. The team finished the season winning its last three matches over Horace Mann, King, and Hamden Hall. The win against King provided the highlight of the spring when the players showed their potential both as individuals and as a team by scoring a school record aggregate low of 200 on the front nine at Sleepy Hollow.

Most of the success of the team was due to the fine golf of the top three players, Dan Rifkin, Dave Wetzstein, and Captain Mike Karger. Dan was 4-4 playing most of the season in the very tough Number 1 spot, and he was the low medalist or was tied for low medalist three times. Dave was 4-2-2, and Mike was the team MVP with a 5-1-1 record while capturing low-medalist honors five times. As they will all be returning next year along with this year's first time letter winners Leroy Kim, Steve Good, and Andy Staub, the prospects are good for a very fine season in the spring of 1989.

 me?
 This is a great shot man ... I should be a photographer!
 You gentlemen are the top 1% of all Naval Aviators ... The best of the best ... The Elite! We'll make you better.
 That's classified ... that's what? ... I could tell you but then
 I'd have to kill you!
 Well, it's the bottom of the ninth ... The score is tied ... It's time for the big one!
 We're gonna have a good time always!
 Ice, we got a problem here. Not 1 pair but 2 pair ... 4 bogies!
 I'll see you up on deck !

Colleen: Good Luck next year. I know you'll do well. Thanks for everything (K-class & Chemistry). I hope you go to Tufts!
 See you at Bloomies — Love, your Briarcliff Tennis partner.

John — Thanx for always putting up with me. I know it hasn't been easy. I don't know what I'll do without you looking over me all the time. You've been a good friend and I'll love forever. — Jenn

Hey Doug KAK, and John; I couldn't have made it without
 you. Thanks!! — Chris

To Fritz, Laura, Joe, Mark, and Tarzan, the 4 year Ivy League

Ah yes, the days before
Senior Slump!

GOOD FRIENDS!

A notorious group!

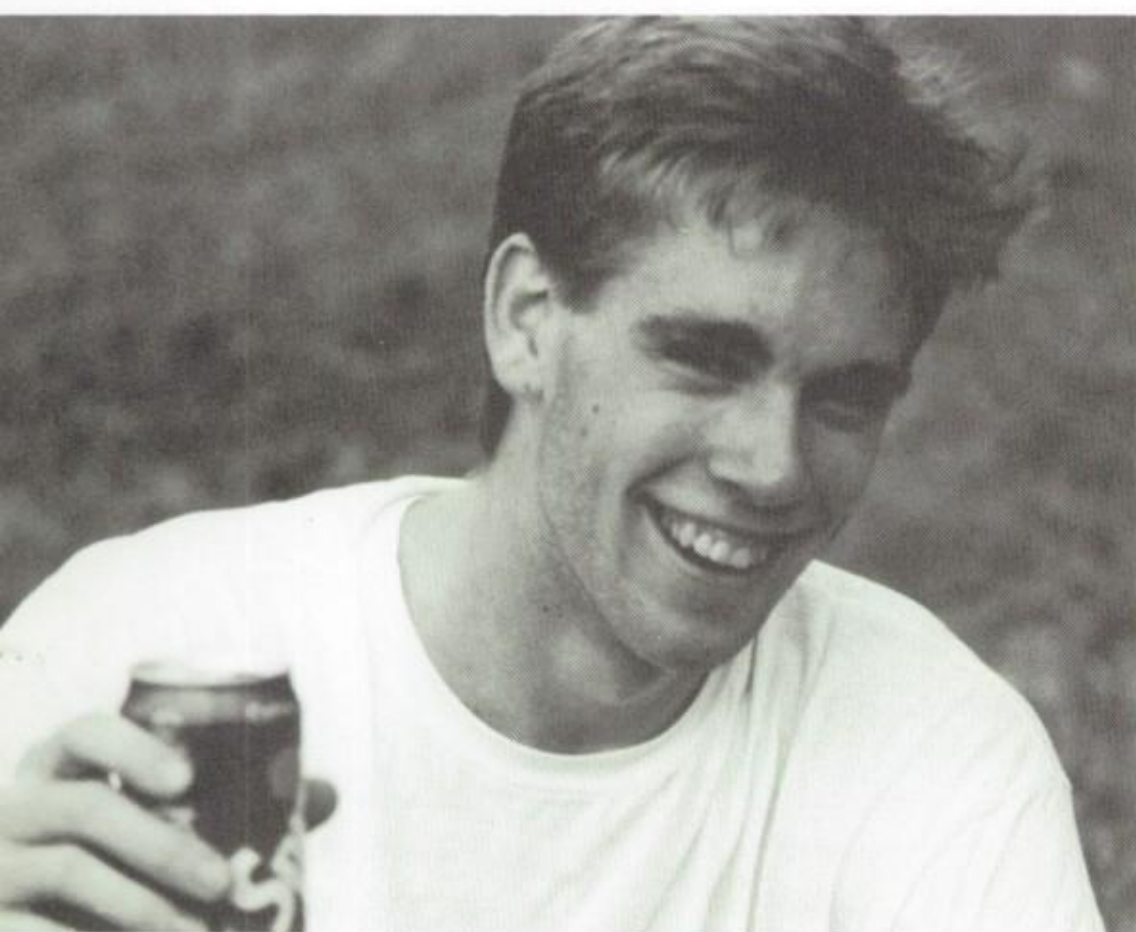

Don't bother me, I'm trying to sleep!

Overworked, Fritz?

Cheers!

Look Ma, no hand!

Honest, we were just talking!

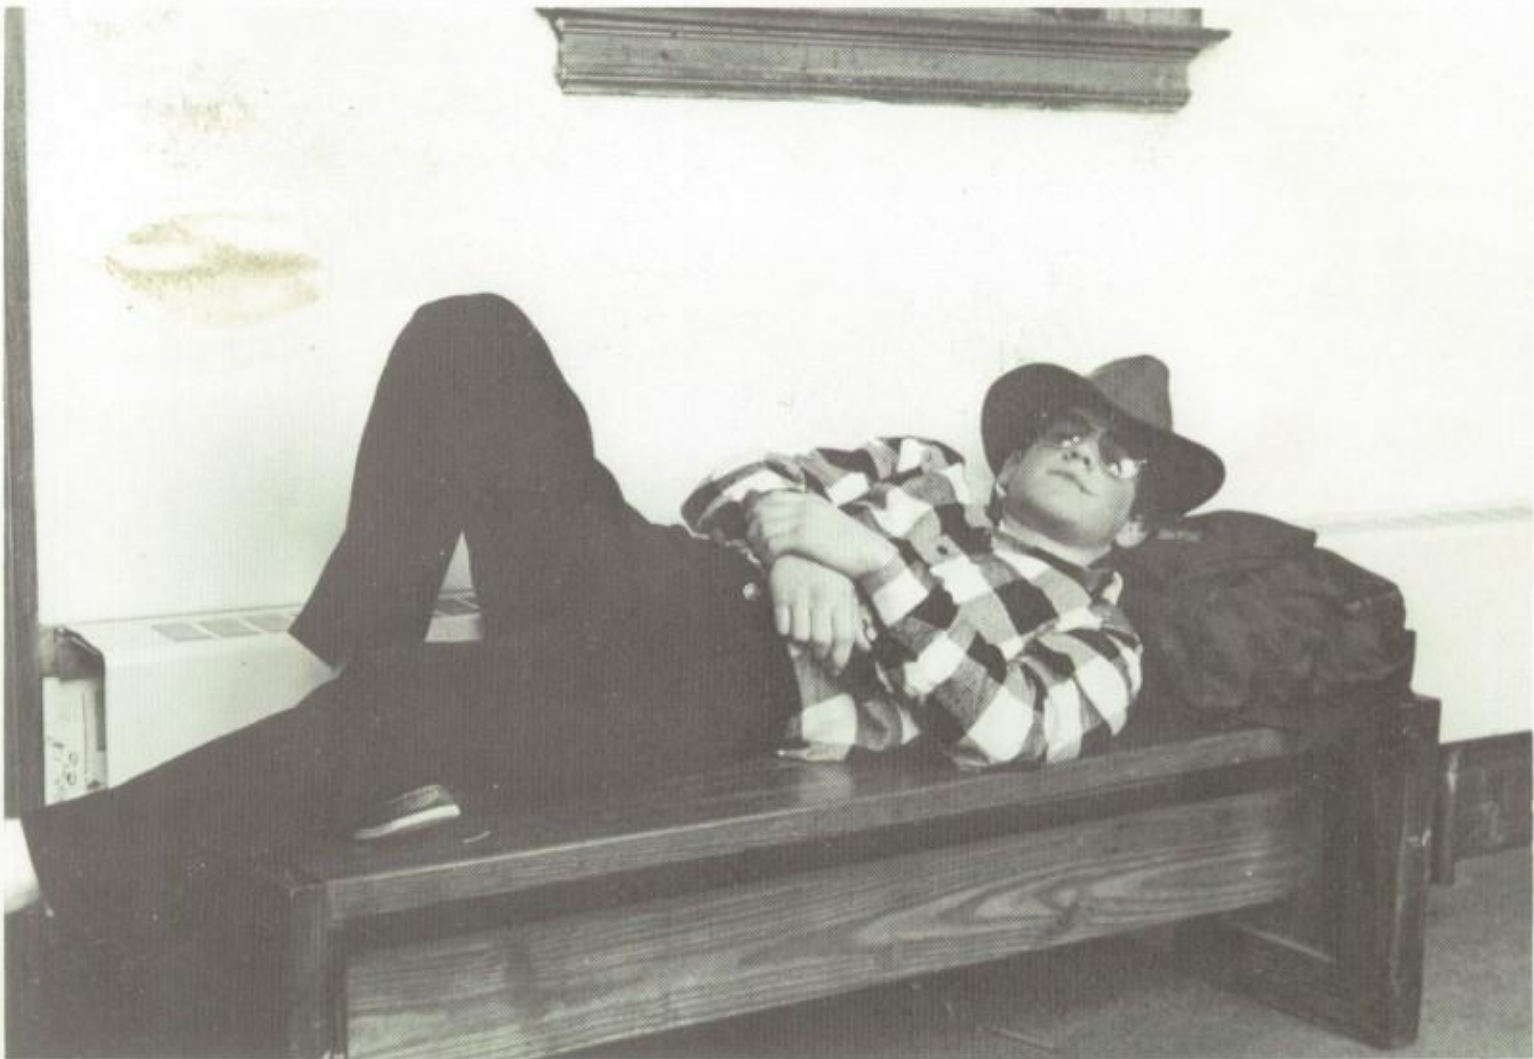

The girls and Mickey D.

Tara the clown!
